POEM FILMS

Miss Moltke-Leth started the new initiative the Poem Film after she graduated from The National Film School of Denmark. The Poem Film is an integration of the spoken word in a short, visual story. The purpose of the Poem Film is to introduce the audience to the many facets of poetry, and to introduce new voices and ideas to the Danish visual media. Just as the music video helps to sell music the Poem Film's new, short format addresses itself to a wider audience.

SAME OLD SONG (A DOCUMENTARY FILM 2005)

This is a exploration of modern music composition.

It is a meeting between three different musicians.

They are going to make a love song.

They are all around thirty and they are all singles.

Miss Moltke-Leth's graduation film as a Multicamera Documentary Director, Same Old Song, has been screened at:

- The Danish Broadcasting Corporation (DR2) 2005.
- The Danish Broadcasting Corporation (DR1) 2005.
- Femmina Internasjonal Filmfestival, Norway, October 2005.
- FEST - Youth International Film Festival, Festival de Cinema e Video Jovem, Portugal, April 2006.
- 6th Young Guns Film Festival, Singapore, May 2006.

SHANTI (A DOCUMENTARY FILM 2004)

Shanti is 13 years old. She lives in Nepal. She had to leave school to find a job. Now she is far away from her family and from the village. She sends her earnings home so her younger brother and sister can go to school. Shanti dreams about getting back to school herself, to learn, and to be together with her friends and family. But she works hard for another family and sends their boy to school every day.

Miss Moltke-Leth's film school project, the film Shanti, is a one-woman-one-camera production made in cooperation with The Royal Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs/Danida, and shot in Nepal, Marts 2004. It has been screened at:

- The 34th Roshd International Film Festival (2nd Student Filmmakers Festival) November 2004
- The 24th Ethnographic Film Panorama (Bilan du Film Ethnographique) March 2005,
- In the Competition of The 28e Rencontres Internationales Henri Langlois, Poitiers International Film Schools Festival.
- IV Sant-Petersburg Open Film Festival, May 2005.

DAUGHTERS (A DOCUMENTARY FILM 2003)

Five young women have started a rock band.

They want to find their identity as modern females.

We meet them in an intimate and touching moment where they get closer to each other and to who they are.
